

search.medscape.com/news-search?newSearchHeader=1&queryText=adhd

NEWS REFERENCE EDUCATION Log In Register

Get information including clinical data about a nonstimulant treatment for ADHD. Learn More

Medscape SEARCH

NEWS SEARCH RESULTS Sort By Relevance Refine Your Results

541 documents matched adhd

LATEST NEWS RESULTS

- No Increase in Cardiac Events or Death With ADHD Drugs May 2011
- Prevent Birth Day Dose ADHD Risk by Up to 67% Jun 2011
- Growth Hormone Response Unaffected By ADHD Treatment May 2011

More Latest News Results >

Attention Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder ADHD News & Perspectives
Attention-deficit/hyperactivity disorder (ADHD) affects 3% to 5% of all children and possibly as many as 2 million American children.

Child and Adolescent Psychiatry News & Perspectives
In recent years the role of psychiatry in addressing psychological health issues in childhood and adolescence has greatly increased. Behavioral, developmental, and mental disorders affect between 7 and 12 million American youth but effective recognition and management strategies have become increasingly well-characterized. Children and adolescents are distinct patient populations with unique psych.

Adolescent Medicine News & Perspectives
Adolescent medicine and the treatment of teenagers require approaches that differ from those that are provided to children and adults.

Assessment and Management of Attention Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD)
This guideline synthesis is from National Guideline Clearinghouse (NGC) and offers a systematic comparison of guidelines that address similar topics.

Get information including clinical data about a nonstimulant treatment for ADHD. Learn More

www.medscape.com/resource/adhd

ADHD | Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder

LATEST NEWS IN ATTENTION DEFICIT HYPERACTIVITY DISORDER (ADHD)

Extended-Release Methylphenidate Safe and Effective for ADHD MGH/CI, an extended-release formula of nonstimulant medication demonstrates safety and efficacy in a phase 2 randomized trial in adults with ADHD. Medscape Medical News, September 8, 2011

Omega-3 Effective for Treating Child ADHD Omega-3 fatty acid supplements may provide "small but significant" decreases in symptom severity in children with ADHD, according to a new meta-analysis. Medscape Medical News, September 8, 2011

Writing Problems Common in Kids With ADHD Pediatric Health Information, August 23, 2011

ADHD Rates Continue to Rise in the United States Medscape Medical News, August 22, 2011

Potential New Therapeutic Target for ADHD Revealed Medscape Medical News, August 16, 2011

Secondhand Smoke Boosts Neurobehavioral Problems in Kids Medscape Medical News, July 13, 2011

More

FEATURED ATTENTION DEFICIT HYPERACTIVITY DISORDER (ADHD) ARTICLES

Trichlorophenol Levels and Risk of ADHD in Children In an attempt to understand the possible connection between toxic chemicals and neurodevelopmental disorders, the authors of this study look closely at trichlorophenol levels and ADHD in children. What are their conclusions? Occupational and Environmental Medicine, August 2011

A Growing Concern in US Children Dr. Robert Findling discusses the alarming rise in the prevalence of developmental disabilities in US children and the resulting strain on health and education resources. Medscape Psychiatry, August 2011

Complementary Medicine for Children With ADHD is Complementary Medicine effective in treating ADHD? The authors examine the evidence for several options, from dietary supplements and neurofeedback to meditation, with disappointing results. Current Opinion in Psychiatry, July 2011

ADHD in Very Young Children: Treatment Challenges Findings of a study of atomoxetine in 5- to 6-year-old children with ADHD raise questions about the best way to treat these young patients. Medscape Pediatrics, June 2011

Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD) on Medscape Reference

Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD)
Tourette Syndrome
Conduct Disorder in Children
Oppositional Defiant Disorder in Children

ADHD on Medscape Education

intuniv
(guanfacine) CLINICAL TRIAL
for kids 6 to 17 with ADHD

As adjunctive therapy, INTUNIV demonstrated significant improvement in ADHD symptoms

Use with caution in patients at risk for hypotension, bradycardia, heart block, or syncope. Caution and monitoring for orthostatic hypotension.

Please see Full Prescribing Information